Rockwall County Library News

February 2010

Spotlight on 2009 Romance

Julie Garwood's novel, Sizzle, features a film student whose life becomes imperiled when she inadvertently captures a crime on film.

In Linda Howard's Ice, a young woman is being held hostage by armed men during an ice storm.

In Jayne Ann Krentz's Fired Up, the first in a new series, a man believes that his family is cursed. In order to reverse the curse, he must find the Burning Lamp and the woman who has the gift to read it.

In Tracie Peterson's Dawn's Prelude (Book 1 of Song of Alaska) a widow escaping an abusive past begins a new life in Sitka, Alaska. Will she be able to keep her past from following her?

Basic Computing in February

Rockwall County Library will host a basic computer skills workshop for those with little to no experience with computers. Workshops are three days in length, starting on Wednesday and ending on Friday.

Class will take place 10:30 to Noon in the technology lab upstairs.

- ⇒ February 3, 4, 5
- ⇒ February 10, 11, 12
- ⇒ February 17, 18, 19

Students must have a valid library card. Students may sign up for only one set of workshops.

February is African-American History Month

Look for these fascinating reads on your next visit to the library.
